STOCK SHIPPING RULES WILL BE MODIFIED

Secretary Thinks Time Limit Might Be Extended in the West.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18,-Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural department returned to Washington from Chicago today, where he conducted an investigation of complaints against the new regulations governing the shipments of stock under the 28-hour law. The Secretary, in response to an inquiry whether he will ask Congress for a modification of the law in order to give the shippers and railroads the relief they demand, said he was inclined to think the time limit might be extended on hauls in territory west of the Mis-souri river, but that east of the Missouri river an extension of time is not advisable.

Later in the day the Secretary made public the following communication from Dr. Salmon and indicated that he had approved the changes sugested:

Recommendation Withdrawn.

The Secretary of Agriculture: Sir-Referring to my recommendation approved by you, as printed in circular dated July 27, 1905, in regard to the attitude to be taken by the department with reference to the 28-hour law in the matter of feeding, resting and watering live stock in transit. I have the bear it withdraw in transit, it have the honor to withdraw that recommendation and to recommend that until fur-ther orders cars shipped with feeding and water facilities may be used for shipment of cattle without unloading, provided the cattle can and do receive food and water en route and that the number of cattle loaded in a car be left to the shippers, but that such loading shall not exceed the minimum weight, as provided in the classification of the transportation companies. Very spectfully. D. E. SALMON,

Approved-James Wilson, Secretary.

BOOM IN WHITE HATS

Increasing Demand for New Style of Headgear in London.

London hat-making firms are experiencing quite an unexpected demand for white top hats, and they anticipate an even bigger demand if the weather should keep fine. "The example set by the King in wearing a white hat," said a manager to a London Express representative, "is being followed to a re-markable extent. It is quite an inno-vation this year, although there have en isolated white hats here and there for some time.

"The 'white hat' is really not white "The 'white hat' is really not write at all. Strictly speaking it is a sort of whitish French gray or drab, but it has got the name of white and the name is likely to stick to it. Now that royalty and members of the peerage are going in for it largely we may expend the wall draws a group, the pect to see the well dressed among the great middle class wearing thousands of white top hats. Anything more distinctive and noticeable, more stylish and full of character than a white top hat can scarcely be found in all the wide range of headgear."

It was John Fletcher Bennett who introduced the high silk hat into England about a century ago, and the firm is taking the present white hat boom with an air of satisfied caim. The new white felt top hat is light in weight and is made with a brim of greater or lesser a curl according to the style adopted by the wearer.

Citizens Complain That He Held Them Up for a House to Live In.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 .- Charges have been filed in the Department of Justice by citizens of Globe, Ariz., against Assoclate Justice Tucker of the Territorial court, which, it is said, involve his judi-cial and personal conduct.

Judge Threatened to Move.

It is alleged that when Justice Tucker went to Arizona some months age to assume his official duties, he let it be known to the clitzens of Globe that if he made that city his home a residence would have to be provided for him and intimated that in case of failure on the part of the people to make this provision for him he would be compelled to take up his residence in another part of his district.

Other Charges Made.

It is charged that the residence was actually provided as requested. Other charges are made of more or less importance, all of which are under investigation by the Department of Justice. A report is expected later on.

VIBRATIONS CAUSED FALL

Scientific Theory of Music Established by Recent Incident.

At a private social gathering the other evening in West Philadelphia music was a feature, and one of the performers played the cello so well that he was called on for several pieces. Just previous to one of these, while he was tuning his instrument, a picture suspended by a long wire to the wall came tumbling down very suddenly and without warning.

ing.
The incident seemed rather uncanny, and some of those present were made rather nervous by it. A scientific man among the guests suggested that the fall of the picture had been caused by a vibration of the wire set up by a note of a particular pitch made by the 'cello. He went to some trouble to explain that every stretched string and indeed everything under a strain has some particular musical note which will set it vibrating. The explanation was not new, but it was received with incredulity by those who stack to their superstitions. Then it was suggested that the cellist should try his hand on other picture wires. He did, and sure enough he was able to cause some of them to vibrate so violently as to be visible to the naked eye. None of them fell, however, and it is thought probable that the fall of the first picture was caused by the wire being worked, by the vibrations, over the end of the nail, which happened to have no head. The cellist succeeded also in setting up vibrations on a piece of glassware on the mantelpiece which caused it to give out a musical tone.

Then a religious guest took up the conversation and declared that the falling of the walls of Jericho, when Joshua's soldiers blev their trumpets is not now regarded by scientists as a miracle, but as having been caused by this same principle of vibration. Philadelphia Record.
